

There's a Secret

(music and lyrics by Antti Nissilä)

I've reached the sky through that magic door,
and I've been drowned in that blue.

They take you high, and they make you fall.
In the eyes of a woman you can find it all.

There's a secret hiding deep inside the eyes of a woman.
The power of their magic never fades away.

There's a heaven in one loving glance,
a fate and a second chance,
and I will let them lead all the way.

I've been condemned by a falling tear,
and I've been healed in their glow.

I've been seduced by their siren call.
In the eyes of a woman you can find it all.

There's a secret hiding deep inside the eyes of a woman.
The power of their magic never fades away.

There's a heaven in one loving glance,
a fate and a second chance,
and I will let them lead all the way.